From the GOF in Spain and the Arcturian School in San Peres de Ribes

We are happy to announce a new monthly column for our newsletter focusing on Spain and the work of the Group of Forty there. David Miller worked intensely with the GOF in Spain for several years, and as a result of that interaction, the GOF members there developed a special Arcturian School. In this first column, we are providing a short summary of that Arcturian School and some of their activities. Future columns will also highlight their activities as well as other events going on in Spain.

The Arcturian School is a non-profit association whose main mission is to teach Arcturian Technology to awaken and accelerate awareness in the ideological line of the Arcturian Project on Earth. The Arcturian School, which is in San Peres de Ribas (near Barcelona), supports David Miller's work and the practices of the Arcturian Group of Forty and Cities Planetary Light project as a space for the implementation of the Arcturian teachings. In fact, the Arcturian School in Spain has been responsible for publishing many of David Miller's Together, the Arcturian School and the Sant Pere de Ribes group, we organize two monthly Biorelativity exercises in the Wormhole Webinar on the first and fourth Saturdays of each month. Magda Ferrer is the leader of Biorelativity and the national coordinator of the Group of Forty in Spain.

The Arcturian School for Planetary Healing and Personal Ascension organizes an annual Online Workshop with David K. Miller as a closing of the season of studies in the classroom and online. PCOL Reports from Around the World

From New Zealand - the Land of the Long White Cloud

In East Auckland we always have a medicine wheel when we maintain our PCOL. It depicts the East, West, North and South of our PCOL.

SPIRITUAL MEDITATION TRAINING AND PLANETARY HEALING MEDITATION

with Purvesh San Martin and David K. Miller.

This first in a series of webinars will be serving to help new members become acquainted with the practices of the Group of Forty, and the tools that the Arcturians have given us to prepare for the Planet's Ascension into the Fifth Dimension. It is an excellent review for all members to practice the focus as the acceleration on the planet is taking place.

Purvesh's guided meditation led us all into a deep state, which was the perfect interlude to David's biorelativity exercise. Purvesh teaches meditation as one of his great gifts to humanity. He led us gently and skillfully into our own Higher Awareness, to open to the Wisdom we all want to access. If you missed this first webinar, make note that you will indeed not miss the forthcoming ones. Watch your emails for future opportunities.

David then channeled two sessions. We were led into Biorelativity work, and we Bi-located to the Crystal Lake on Arcturus. This offered the perfect opportunity for new GOF members to become familiar with the work that the Group of Forty does in Unity Consciousness.

The week beforehand, items are chosen from the environment and elsewhere that reflect our city's identity and give significance and meaning for us to the grid. These, along with crystals are also selected based upon what is currently happening in our PCOL and around the world, and what we feel is needed.

To the East of our PCOL is the countryside: farms, agriculture lands, horse studs, large country estates, markets, and a variety of horticulture.

To the North is our ocean with its abundant sea life. Just 30 minutes from the centre of the city on any weekend during summer, hundreds of small watercraft are anchored in the waters of Half Moon Bay. There is plenty for everyone, including fishing and diving. To the west is the sprawling metropolis of Auckland with all the conveniences that a large city offers, and it accommodates many different nationalities and cultures living alongside one another peacefully.

To the South are our mountains and lakes. Mother Earth, showcasing her beauty at her pristine best, creates a playground of endless outdoor pursuits.

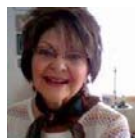

The medicine wheel is meditated on and, therefore, it is different each time, sometimes small and simple, sometimes large and elaborate.

Each item placed on the wheel has significance and meaning. E.g., the small simple wheel has a big message for North Korea and the USA. Sitting on Lord Metatron's cube, with the wisdom of the owl looking over the two swords (USA and Korea). The crystals represent the Chakras, and we ask for the opening of the Chakras of the leaders, so they may hold the world in their hands with love in their hearts.

Cosmin Supeala has been gathering data for some time on a survey from the Country Coordinators of the GOF. He gave his report, and this data is now ready for the next step in gathering information so as we can issue a proposal for Intervention to the Galactic Council in regard to the extreme Earth events, especially those caused by Man's insensitivity to survival. The intention of the COE is that this will become an annual task to report to the Galactic Council our concerns leading up to the Ascension of the Planet.

The Editor of the Sedona Journal asked David K. Miller, to channel predictions for the year 2018. The Unity provided by the meeting of the COE was an optimum time for Juliano to bring this information through David for this publication. I encourage you all to seek out this magazine to read the article, and I am sure that at some future date it will become available on our website or newsletter. Keep an eye out for this information.

Thank you all for your support and cooperation as members of the Group of Forty.

The wheels are laid out 24 hours before the meeting to begin building energy. By the time the group arrives the energy is strong and can be easily felt by members. We very often have visitors drop in and out to enjoy the energy too. The medicine wheel creates interest and sets the scene for positive energy to flow. It promotes peace, love, and the exchanging of ideas and experiences and enhances the camaraderie of like-minded people coming together for a common purpose. Often after our PCOL meetings, individual members will enjoy meditating quietly with the wheel before they leave for home.

VANCOUVER VIBES

I had driven from Vancouver to Golden British Columbia on an eight-hour solo journey. It had been a decade since having the opportunity and appropriate health to make such a journey.

Imagine the excitement? With so much beauty this province offers, a true delight to the senses. It ranges from the Pacific Ocean to the Pacific Coastal Mountain Ranges, through the Interior Plateau desert and back up the Rocky Mountains. But nothing had prepared me for the pristine beauty of Lake Moraine, home of the Arcturian Crystal of Understanding, overseen by Archangel Michael.

The sun was directly above with not a cloud in the sky, and for some blessed reason, there managed to be no smoke in the air from the remaining hundred-plus wild fires still burning in BC. The divine pristine beauty I observed filled my every sense with brilliant delights and a pure sense of freedom.

The smell of oxygen-rich fresh mountain pine filled my lungs. There were natural rock piles that remained from the glaciers and a row of ten mountain peaks that hugged one side of the Lake. The first few peaks still had thick glacier masses wedged in between them.

Lake Moraine was a brilliant turquoise blue reflecting the ever-beaming dancing sunlight. The shores were covered with refined white sandy beaches connected by random rocks filling the gaps. It was if I were in a tropical place, very different from the common rocky lakes in BC. Pine trees filled the open side of the lake meeting the base of the ten peaked mountains just past the glacial river entrance.

As I approached the far side, the glacial river was rushing with brisk waters at full capacity. I had reached my destiny. I stood on a log with open arms and connected with the energy of this auspicious place. My energy field was light and wispy as prana flushed my aura as though I were standing in the river. What a joyful place to be and an amazing experience to have.

I thanked all the beings for creating this place and blessed them with the continued abundance of prosperity and beauty.

HELLO FROM BART IN HOLLAND ...

Lightwork - A Work in Progress

When we think of Lightwork, we mostly think of doing Lightwork for Gaia or mankind as we do in the Group of Forty. I really do love this. But the last two months have been more difficult since I have had to deal with old negative habits, sickness and low energy level. It was probably a time of cleansing since I had a very profound ten-day silent retreat in June. It was such a contrast with the retreat period from experiencing light and a very strong 'I-Am' awareness to sickness and old dark stuff. It was difficult to maintain faith and believing that this was just cleansing as a result of a shift in consciousness. Then I went 'inside' and felt the invitation of the Divine Mother to focus on her. She soothes everything and each time she lifts me up. My frequency and vital force expands. It is really working with light focused in and on myself.

A completely different type of Lightwork is what I experience in my work. For almost two years now, I have been in a career of helping sick and sometimes terminally ill patients. It touches me when I see how they cope with their restraints or loneliness. They may have escapes, for example: drinking, binge TV watching, etc. But I respect them in the way they are accepting their fate. A very special task is taking care of the terminal patients. I send them my love and light and I am often an anchor point for the entire family. My daughter told me that in my work I am very connected to the Arcturians. I do feel a lot of light, and I love this idea. Every now and then I touch the crystals in my pocket to empower these thoughts of connection.

The last type of Lightwork, which resonates in me, is staying focused on my vision of a balanced and peaceful world. I believe that the world is in transition to this. But it is sometimes difficult to keep this view when you see the news or the state of nature. And yet I also see very beautiful young people and new business initiatives. I can't read the newspapers in depth anymore, nor can I listen to the TV news. But because I want to know what is going on in the world, I listen every now and then. I try not to get involved, to not judge, or to draw conclusions. I just observe. And if that succeeds, I feel the light in me, and I am sure this light will go directly to the Noosphere. The beauty of this is that I feel I am less and less the doer of Lightwork. It is more about focusing on who I am, going with the flow and realizing the Arcturians and Fifth Dimensional light are here.

I thank the Divine Mother and the Arcturians for this!

Dear David,

A few days ago I watched a video just published on YouTube connected to your Group of Forty. It was channeled information and I believe the name Juliano was mentioned, but I'm not sure in what connection. I don't know when this channeling took place as they didn't give that date but, for me, it was an extraordinary synchronicity.

In 2010 I published a channeled book called 'Ascension Journey: into the fifth dimension', by Barbara Jal, published by Authorhouse. This was a series of channelings that took place during the last two weeks of December 2009 and January 2010. My channel gave me a chapter called 'Math, Music and Crop Circles' and the similarity between what your channel was saying and what my higher dimensional friends said in 2010 was so amazing. My lot said the circles are created through vibration, a frequency tone or tones, which creates patterns similar to the designs that can be created in fine sand if you play a sustained note, such as on a violin. They said the crop circles are literally cosmic symphonies, and if we only had the technical knowhow, we could go home with a CD of the circle.

There was another interesting connection that I made while listening to this video. As a teenager I wanted to spend my life as an artist. The only problem being that I had absolutely no 'great artist' talent whatsoever. All I wanted to do was draw intricate geometric designs and fill the different shapes I created with colours. I couldn't have drawn a lifelike portrait or painted a landscape. My higher Dimensional put a stop to it eventually saying it was not what I was meant to be doing. I had other work to do. They told me to focus on music and dance, packed me off to University on a literature and language degree, and obligingly arranged for a guitar to be provided. I didn't have a piano at the time.

It worked well and culminated in the book. I think we are going to be doing another one pretty soon.

Every spring, come April, I would get this compulsion to pick up paintbrushes and paint these designs. While I listened to your video, I realized that I had been drawing and painting crop circles, not basic colour charts as I thought. Even though I've long been fascinated by these beautiful mysterious designs in the fields. I didn't make this connection until I came across your video, so for that many, many thanks. Interestingly, now that I know what my designs really were, my cosmic friends say it's ok to do them if I want to. Not necessary, but for pleasure and maybe a spot of enlightenment from the geometry. They weren't wildly enthusiastic since music and another book are more important. What they didn't like was spending hours, sometimes whole days, in the painting zone without knowing why. I could have got trapped there in a very Third Dimensional way so rescue was required before they lost me to the matrix.

If you have a business address or PO Box number I could send you a copy of the book if you're interested. Again, many thanks for a fascinating video and the personal awakening I received from listening.

Best wishes,

Barbara

Spiritual Practice

The evolutionary step that is necessary for the whole species has to do with expanded, higher, and Fifth-Dimensional Consciousness. Those beings that are using higher consciousness or Fifth Dimensional Consciousness are adapting and are using and practicing a higher evolutionary development that will be necessary for the whole planet. In order for this planet to survive, there must be a majority of people, or at least a powerful core of people, who have higher, Fifth Dimensional Consciousness.

This Fifth Dimensional Consciousness involves the opening of certain codes within the brain. In order to experience Fifth Dimensional Consciousness, one must unlock what we call Codes of Ascension within the brain. There are certain systems within the brain of humanity that must be opened. One such system I refer to as the Reticular Activating System. It has been described as a valve in the interior of the brain, which controls perception. If that valve is open, you are able to see and experience higher perception, which includes higher colors, higher sounds and higher emotional energy. It enables you to see and understand this reality from a unified field perspective, and it gives you much more creative energy and problem-solving ability. You also will have what is described as a spiritual consciousness. It is this next evolutionary step that some of you are now participating in.

How to open this system in the brain:

- Go into your mind by visualizing your brain. Go into the centre of it. It's called the Reticular Activating System.
- There is a valve. Open it slowly. Feel a rush of light. There is a small portion of the unified consciousness energyfield coming into your consciousness. This enables you to perceive more.
- Feel the aura expanding. Feel an expansion within you. Open the valve a little more. Feel a new flood of unified energy and expansion.

As your mind moves up into your super mind you receive energies and abilities to have a wonderful awareness of your soul and stronger healing abilities.
