Greetings, this is Juliano. We are the Arcturians. Today we will look at a theme in planetary development and evolution called the “Tipping Point”. The tipping point is related to the planetary “Theory of Chaos”, and I talk about the Theory of Chaos when I speak about the “Butterfly Effect”. In the Theory of Chaos on a planetary scale, events reach a point where they become out of control and rapidly deteriorate. That point where they rapidly deteriorate is what I call the tipping point. It is possible that, at the tipping point, a series of events can withstand the tip and pull back so that the chaotic energy will not go out of control. The second possibility is that the tipping point is so advanced that the out-of-control energy cannot be stopped and an acceleration of chaos follows.

I bring this issue up because there are several tipping points that are now occurring on the Earth. I know that many of you on an emotional level feel the imbalances that are occurring. You are empaths and you are planetary healers. This means that, empathically, you feel the pain of the planet. This means that you are affected in several different ways. On the first level you are affected just like everyone else, in terms of the economic or political or militaristic fears that are created from chaotic events. On a second level and equally as serious, you are affected emotionally in your subconscious because you experience these imbalances on a deep level. Most other people who are not planetary healers and who are not sensitive or empathic would not even understand what you are talking about when you say that you are empathically feeling the pain of this planet.

One series of current events related to the tipping point include the Ukraine-Russian war and the continual threats of the nuclear exchange, and the possible, nuclear annihilation from several different areas, particularly in Europe. This has created a high level of anxiety around even a possible date for an all-out nuclear war. (Author's note: some lightworkers thought May 9th, 2022, would be the date for the nuclear war in Europe. Of course, that did not happen.) There are people, especially in Europe, who are feeling the danger of a nuclear war that could potentially occur. There is a spiritual intervention possible to change that outcome for a nuclear war, and there is an exercise for this intervention that I will lead during this lecture.

This current Earth tipping point is one of many tipping points to come. This is not the only tipping point, but rather this is a tipping point that is on the front page of global consciousness. There are several other tipping points coming that are just as serious, maybe not as dramatic, but just as serious.

We have tipping points coming having to do with the oceans. I and the Arcturians have predicted that there is a real danger the biosphere within the oceans can collapse. I had given a prediction of 10 years or longer for a possible ocean collapse of the biosphere. That prediction was projected to be around 2035. This event could be a systematic ocean collapse. A collapse in the ocean life would be considered a planetary tipping point. In other words, an actual event, such as an increase in contamination, could set off a biological collapse in the oceans.

In the Theory of Chaos, we talk about the Butterfly Effect, which means that one seemingly insignificant insect, flying or changing its course from the north to the south, could set off a chain reaction that leads to a chaotic collapse in other global systems. From the outside, it may look like that the shift in the direction the butterfly is flying caused the chaotic acceleration, but in reality, there were deep-seated reasons that were set up earlier that contributed to the dramatic collapse. In Chaos Theory, the shift of the butterfly represents the tip of the iceberg, and appears or looks like it was the tipping point, but in reality there were a series of other events ongoing that occurred months or years ago.

We can do the spiritual intervention on this dire circumstance, namely the Ukraine and Russian war. I want to speak about this current crisis in Europe and relate it to the sixth mass extinction. I need you to understand that the sixth mass extinction includes the possibility of humanity dying. Maybe people think that the sixth mass extinction only includes other plants, other animals, or maybe other species in the oceans. The recent events of the pandemic, and now the events of this war, definitely show that the sixth mass extinction includes the possibility of Homo sapiens becoming extinct either through disease or through self-annihilation.

What also is disturbing is that some Homo sapiens, on a subconscious level, react to the sixth mass extinction by becoming more homicidal and, in some cases, even suicidal. I predict that the suicide rates of Homo sapiens have gone up recently, and the homicidal rates are certainly going up, especially if you consider the recent wars.

This means that the destruction and the tendency towards destroying other humans through war is increasing during the sixth mass extinction.

The energy of a mass extinction is affecting humanity. Of course, no one is talking about that. The media is talking a little about the mass extinction event, and occasionally it occurs in an article here or there. We need to study the effects of the mass extinction on the behavior of humanity. I would say that there are few people speaking or theorizing about how this mass extinction is affecting humanity.

What are you to do as starseeds? What are you to do as planetary healers about these dire events? This is a planetary crisis and it is a crisis for humanity. I and the Arcturians, in general, look at this crisis from the evolutionary perspective, and I am going to offer you a broad perspective from prehistoric times. Homo sapiens and Neanderthal were engaged in a war that lasted 100 thousand years. We have read in American history, and also we have read of civil wars that lasted four or five years. There have been wars in Europe that lasted perhaps 100 years. Can you imagine a war lasting 100 thousand years? Yet this is how long the war existed between the two species.

You as a modern species are not that far away from that genetic material from the Neanderthal times. Genetically, you are not that far away from an evolutionary perspective from this conflict that occurred between Neanderthal and Homo sapiens, who were engaged in the battle of survival. Homo sapiens won the conflict, and this war-like behavior was necessary for their survival. This war-like behavior continues today genetically in the evolutionary process of modern Homo sapiens. You are seeing this war behavior being played out in many of the wars that are going on now, including between Russia and Ukraine. People are dug in and prepared for a long war over what each side believes is for their survival. This is core genetics; this is a core evolutionary representation of an earlier primitive biological conflict that is embedded genetically in Homo sapiens.

We now have to look at the leadership on this planet, and who is leading the world towards more wars, because there is a criminal element involved in the world leadership. There is a criminal element of this planet that commits acts against the environment, against other fellow humans. These people feel no guilt about the destruction and suffering they create. This is hard to understand by sensitive people like yourselves. How could someone commit crimes against the rain forest and not feel guilty? How could someone kill innocent people in a bomb shelter, who are not involved in combat, and not feel any guilt? This comes back to the psychological principle that is called being sociopathic. Sociopathic means, in the modern American, European and Western psychology, the ability to commit criminal or evil acts without experiencing guilt. You could see that this is a dangerous person who has that tendency.

If you look around the planet now, and you look at leadership's roles in businesses and environmental activities, you will find a level of sociopathic behavior. This is one of the main reasons why you are not seeing change. This is why there is blockage in stopping this mass extinction, because the people who are in power, for the most part, do not experience guilt over their actions. Of course, there are people who are good and who want to do the right thing. There are some people who are moral and have leadership roles and who do not share in this type of sociopathic behavior. But in general, this is not the case, and this is why the global crisis on all levels is getting worse instead of getting better.

But there are steps to be taken; there are spiritual interventions to use to stop criminal behavior on the planet. One of the first steps in a spiritual intervention has to do, first, with awareness. This intervention begins with telling people what is really going on, that is, telling people the truth about why this global situation is getting more dangerous.

It is possible that there could be a nuclear exchange among the superpowers. If there was a nuclear exchange, it would be devastating on so many different levels. The Ascended Masters will not allow this to occur. The only solution is there must be consequences for their actions. Think about who could possibly institute consequence. Who is able to control and make sure that those who are destroying the rain forest will get the consequences that will stop them? Who is going to be able to enforce stopping the ocean pollutions, so that there is not dumping in the oceans? Who is going to enforce stopping the radiation leakages? This becomes a global problem of enforcement.

People who are spiritually minded often do not have the power of enforcement. There are a substantial number of spiritually minded people on this planet. It is not a high percentage compared to the total population, but I would say that there are millions of people who are sensitive and spiritually minded living on the planet now. Unfortunately, often they are not in a position to exert power.

Let us talk about this global crisis situation from the Planetary Stages of Development Theory. You might want to know how other planets in the galaxy dealt with this type of problem. How did planets who graduated from Stage One of Planetary Development and went on to Stage Two resolve this same crisis on their planet? What did they do to overcome these problems that the Earth is now experiencing? How did they solve this problem?

We are galactic anthropologists. We have surveyed the planets, and we know that there are at least 5,000 planets in the Milky Way Galaxy with higher life forms. There are more than 10,000 planets with life on them in the Andromeda Galaxy. The Andromeda Galaxy is larger than the Milky Way Galaxy, but there are other nearby galaxies which also have higher life forms. We have explored planetary development galactically, and we find that some planets did not graduate from Stage One of planetary development. Instead they extinguished themselves. Some planets actually went through a mass extinction similar to the Earth's mass extinction and did not survive. Other planets did survive after a catastrophic event. We would like to avoid seeing the Earth go through any more catastrophic events.

Let me explain what I mean by “surviving a catastrophic event.” We work with you on Planetary Cities of Light and on establishing sacred areas. We work with you on meditating with the Arcturian etheric crystals on the Earth. One of the ideas is that we are seeking to help establish fifth-dimensional portals, fifth-dimensional sacred areas around the planet that would be able to survive cataclysms. The idea in planetary evolution is that the crisis for survival is so dangerous and deadly that many people, or many parts of the species, will die, and those that survive, have to exhibit a certain survivability trait.

The survivability trait necessary for survival on the planet is related to Unity Consciousness, fifth-dimensional consciousness and holographic consciousness. There are many terms that we have used to describe this state of consciousness. On these planets that did survive, there was an understanding of Unity Consciousness. These planets that survived achieved an understanding of the interactions between the Spirit of the planet and their species. On these planets that did survive, all peoples are interacting with each other without polarizations. They found a way to unify.

Polarization can lead to a destruction of the planet; it is that simple. Polarization can lead to the destruction of the biosphere and can even lead to the destruction of the planet. It is only through unity thinking that a planetary healing way can develop. Unity Consciousness is a spiritual characteristic that will be part of a new genetic composition to the characteristics of the next evolutionary step called Homo omega.

On some of these planets that we have observed, and in some cases even helped, they were able to use a small percentage of people to heal their planet. They used various planetary healing techniques, such as Planetary Cities of Light and Biorelativity. They have been able to use those techniques to heal their planet. They used a small strong group who survives and who practices the principles of Unity Consciousness.

Let us look at what this means for today’s situation. From an evolutionary standpoint, the old way of polarization is going to fall away. Theoretically, 90 percent of the population could pass away, and 90 percent of the plant and animal species might also pass away. This is a tremendous destructive cycle that we want to help the Earth avoid. It is possible for survival, but there does need to be a new evolutionary trait that transcends polarization and that will ensure the survivability of Homo sapiens and the biosphere on this planet.

The other point that we observed in galactic planets that survived a crisis relates to an issue that I call the “Philosopher-King Rulership”. In this idea, rulers are not chosen in a democratic free election, because it is possible that corrupt people could manipulate the systems and win. Corrupt leaders may not have the best interests of the planet in mind. This idea of the Philosopher-King was also discussed by Plato and the ancient Greeks, which states that there is a certain training needed to develop an ideal ruler for a planet. The ruler must be filled with the idealism of higher planetary principles. They must not be narcissistic or sociopathic, but they must be more altruistic and more oriented towards Unity Consciousness.

There is specialized training for becoming a Philosopher-King, and from that training, they become eligible to begin what we call the Philosopher-King Rulership. A planet needs to have rulers who are ruling from the interests of the entire planet and are concerned about the survivability of the planet. They cannot rule from self-interest. Wise leadership is the only way that this planet can survive. If the leaders continue to rule from self-interest, then this will increase polarization and that will lead to more destruction. We support this idea of the Philosopher-King.

There is a concept in planetary healing called the “Event Horizon”. It is a concept that describes being on the edge or seeing a potential catastrophic event in the near future. It could be a catastrophic earthquake, or it could be focused on the possibility of an escalation of the conflict between Russia and Ukraine. The Event Horizon means that you are right at a point where you could see this event happening with your psychic abilities. When an event is still on the Event Horizon, then it still can be changed. Even though you could see it happening, on the Event Horizon there are still other energies that you could bring in that would alter the situation. This is good news because that means that, even if a negative event is predicted, those planetary healers who understand the principles of Event Horizons can bring together a spiritual intervention.

Let us talk about the principles of a spiritual intervention. If you see the possibility of an outbreak or intensification of the Russia-Ukraine war, then you would want to diffuse and neutralize this situation. Here are some principles for a spiritual intervention in this type of problem. The first principle is that you need to work in a network. Use a planetary healing network, like the Group of Forty, which has a global network. The second principle is that you would want to create the strongest Arcan Power possible, that is, the strongest thought power. The third principle is based on the intensity of your meditation. It would be helpful to repeat the meditation. You may want to repeat this type of meditation several times, or even 10 or 20 times, depending upon how strong an intervention and how important this intervention is. For example, you may want to do the meditation 10 times, and in some cases, I would even recommended continual meditations, where you do the meditation at 9 o'clock in one time zone, 9 o'clock in another time zone, and keep on going around the planet. I understand that that is complex to organize, but these are important factors to practice when you want to intensify a spiritual intervention.

The next principle I would like to recommend is using the 12 Arcturian crystals in any type of spiritual intervention for the planet. We downloaded these 12 Arcturian etheric crystals for many reasons. One reason is to provide amplification of spiritual energy and amplification of your thought powers, because we recognize that spiritual energies and spiritual meditations need to rise above the energy noise from lower vibrations. We understand that in a spiritual intervention, we want to make a powerful statement that reaches the Noosphere that can telepathically connect with the Spirit of the Earth. We want the spiritual intervention for the planet to reach the Noosphere and its thought patterns throughout the Earth.

Call on the Arcturians; call on the other ascended guides and teachers to be with you in the intervention. Sometimes, we say: "Let us go to the Ring of Ascension, because there the Ascended Masters are waiting and wanting to work with you." Do not hesitate to call on the Ascended Masters during this time.

There is one other important point. What is your planetary mission? Some of you may have a planetary mission that involves what I call "Gandhi-like demonstrations". You remember that Mahatma Gandhi was able to lead demonstrations against the British in India non-violently. Through the use of non-violent demonstrations, he was able to shift the policies of a British empire, which eventually led to the freedom of India. What you decide to do with regard to protest depends upon what your planetary mission is. If some of you have the mission, and have the energy, and feel so committed that you need to make a social statement, then I would encourage you to become involved in non-violent protest. I would encourage you to do that in a non-violent, Gandhi-like way. Working in that way would be in alignment with why you are here, and you would be standing up for your beliefs.

We all know that this planet, and the people on this planet, can unite. Remember, there was the Harmonic Convergence in 1987 that produced a new unity among starseeds. There was also a unity for planetary consciousness that occurred at the death of Princess Diana. Finally, there developed an unbelievable unity of consciousness that occurred after the 9/11/2001 tragedies in New York.

There is a great need for global spiritual leadership. This is one of the reasons why we have been asking you in your meditations to call on new spiritual leaders to emerge in the West who will provide guidance for healing the planet.

I am going to lead you now in a special planetary spiritual intervention meditation. First, I am going to do a clearing of all energies of a lower vibration that might be around you. (Tones "Ohhhhhohhh.") Take three breaths and feel your deep connection to your Spirit Body, and your deep connection to your planetary healing abilities. Remember, you are here on the Earth now to use your powers of planetary healing to assist in bringing it into a peaceful balance. (Tones "Ohhhhh.")

I, Juliano, bring down corridors of light over each of your rooms who are now listening to my words, or reading my words. Your Spirit Body rises through your Crown Chakra, out of your physical body. And now enter this corridor of light, and travel at the speed of thought to my starship Athena. (Tones "Ta, ta, ta...") You arrive at the starship entrance, and I greet you there. We will go into the Gaia planetary healing room where I have set up two special movie-like theaters with huge screens in the front of them.

Come into the room. There are two auditoriums; they are merged together in one large area, with the two screens in front. Look at the first screen, and this shows the Earth today, depending on where you are. I have projected the image of the Earth on the screen, and I want you to see the aura of the Earth, and in particular, we are going to focus on Europe, and I want you to look at the Ukraine area in Eastern Europe. You can see as I do, that over this area there is a gigantic hole in the aura, and there is vital Earth energy escaping. There are even negative lower beings coming in. Somebody has described Ukraine as “like hell on Earth”. There are lots of distorted energies, radiation leakage and people are suffering. Many souls are leaving and traveling up.

Let us look at the second screen, and this second screen will be two days later in the future. We do not want to see the Earth increasing its chaos. We do not want to see a nuclear exchange, and we do not want to see an acceleration towards more deaths and destruction. Look at the second screen, and now you can see the whole planet as you could on the first screen. When you look at the whole planet now, then you see the 12 etheric crystals, including in the Bodensee area in Germany, in the Istanbul area, and in Montserrat, Spain. There are 12 large Arcturian etheric crystals downloaded around the Earth. There is an Arcturian etheric crystal in Mt. Fuji, Japan. There is another etheric crystal in the Copper Canyon area in Mexico. There is an etheric crystal in Costa Rica, another in Serra da Bocaina in Brazil, and one in Lago Puelo, Argentina, and one in Australia, and in New Zealand. See the 12 etheric crystals around the planet, and connect energetically with them.

Make this thought pattern meditation affirmation: “Let peace come now to the Ukraine area. Repeat the affirmation: “Let peace come now to the Ukraine area.” Send that thought to one of the etheric crystals and that crystal will amplify the thought into higher power. We will use and emphasize the Arcturian etheric crystal in Montserrat, Spain. Also you can use one of the other crystals that are near you that you feel connected to. Let peace come now. We, the Arcturian starseeds, are blocking any further possible nuclear exchange. We block any further nuclear exchange now. (Tones “Ohhh.”)

Use the etheric crystals to accelerate your thought patterns. I call on the Ascended Masters, including Sananda/Jesus, to be with us. Add his powerful light and energy to this healing thought, so that our healing work will manifest peace, balance, harmony. We are blocking any further escalation of nuclear possibilities. We will go into silence now as you focus your Arcan Power. (Silence)

I, Juliano, begin to seal the holes in the aura over Ukraine and the fractures in the aura, sending calmness, balance and harmony. (Tones “Ohhhh.”) As you are looking at the second screen, then see, energetically, the Earth with a new calmness. You have two images; you have the image on the left which is today, and it is unbalanced. Then you have the image on the right which is two days in the future, and you see a calmness, and a more stable and harmonious energy in the Earth’s aura. There is no new escalation of violence.

Hold those two images and at the count of three, they will merge into one huge image on the screen in the Gaia planetary healing room. One, two, three! (Channel claps his hands.) The two images are merged. The planetary spiritual intervention is intensifying now. Send your Arcan Power. Send the power from the etheric crystals and call on the guides and teachers that you feel close to. Accelerate your thoughts and help create a new spiritual balance. (Tones "Oh, oh, oh.")

This screen will be up for the next two hours. Feel free to continue to work with this energy from your home in meditation. You are a global network, and your thought powers, especially using the etheric crystals, are intensely needed now. The Event Horizon is still changeable. Prepare to leave the healing room and know that the screens will be staying up now for the next two hours.

Get up and leave the room, come back down the hallway. I say goodbye to you. I am here to help. We, the Arcturians, are helping to protect the Earth, to protect the Blue Jewel, to bring forth the next evolutionary development for humanity.

Enter the corridor of light, and travel now with the speed of thought, back into your room on the Earth. You are now six feet above your body. Reenter your body now, in perfect alignment, remembering all that we have done. You are remembering and aware of your connection to this healing room and the large planetary healing screen in the auditorium. Know that during the next two hours, you can continue in this network meditation. It is vital that we work together to prevent this tipping point and future tipping points. Together in unity we will be successful. I am Juliano. Good day.
